Your new professional shortcut keyboard or keyboard skin

Enhanced productivity

Our customized, color-coded Logickeyboard is the most helpful tool you will ever own. Designed specifically for your software application, the keyboard allows you to take easy advantage of software keyboard shortcuts. Whether you're a beginner who's learning a new software or a professional using your software daily, our Logickeyboard is a tremendous time-saver and a fantastic accessory for your editing suite.

Simplicity at your fingertips

The color-coding helps you quickly locate the different categories of keyboard shortcut commands. The commands are clear and concise, with icons matched to your software.

There is no driver to load, and the shortcut commands are available as long as your software application is running. When you're not running your application, you can use your keyboard just like a standard keyboard. There's no need to switch keyboards or connect multiple keyboards.

It's logical to use

Your new Logickeyboard is easy to install and simple to use. No setup is required - just plug and play. The shortcut commands are explained in your software documentation. Simply look up "keyboard shortcut" in your software or in the documentation and you'll find a detailed explanation of all shortcut commands.
